EMBARGO UNTIL SATURDAY 29 NOVEMBER

Have your say on the next stage of Central Park

The Department of Planning and Environment is exhibiting plans for the next stage of development of Central Park, the former Carlton United Brewery site in Chippendale.

A Department spokesperson said that any development worth $10 million or more is assessed as a state significant development.

The proposal includes:
- building a 16-19 story building including a 238-room hotel, 48 residential apartments, commercial office and retail space and a child care centre
- four levels of basement with car and bike parking and other facilities.

“Importantly, the plans propose to retain and restore the Australian Hotel and Abercrombie Street terraces, which are an important part of the precinct’s identity,” the spokesperson said.

The development application, environmental impact statement and other documents can be viewed until Friday 19 December:
- online at majorprojects.nsw.gov.au
- in person at the City of Sydney Council, Level 3, Town Hall House, 456 Kent Street, Sydney

“Listening to the community’s opinion on the proposal is an important part of the assessment process, I encourage everyone to have a look and share their thoughts,” the spokesperson said.
