Have your say on Cormorant Rd car wash plans

A proposal to build a car wash on Cormorant Rd on Kooragang Island will be on exhibition from today for community feedback.

The Department of Planning and Environment is keen to hear the community’s views on the application which seeks to construct and operate a car wash with one automatic wash bay, six self-service wash bays and four vacuum bays.

A spokesperson for the Department of Planning and Environment said input from the local community is part of assessing the project.

“Community consultation is an integral part of the planning process and the applicant will have to respond to the submissions. This is then taken into consideration when we develop our recommendations,” the spokesperson said.

“It’s easy to participate by going on-line and I encourage everyone to take a look and have their say.”

The Department of Planning and Environment is assessing this application because of its location in relation to the Port of Newcastle.

Written submissions can also be made to:
