Wednesday, 19 August 2015

More time for Macarthur locals to have their say

Residents of Campbelltown have more time to have their say on draft plans to revitalise the seven station precincts from Glenfield to Macarthur.

The Draft Corridor Strategy provides a vision for renewing the area around the stations, including new homes, shops, cafes and improved public spaces close to existing public transport.

A Department spokesperson said there have been several requests from locals to extend the exhibition period, to allow them time to comment on the draft strategy.

“We want to encourage as many locals as possible to spend a few minutes looking over the draft plans and providing their feedback.”

The Draft Corridor Strategy is now on exhibition for an extra three weeks, until Monday 14 September.

The Department will then use the community feedback to refine the Draft Corridor Strategy.

The seven station precincts are around the following stations:

- Glenfield
- Macquarie Fields
- Ingleburn
- Minto
- Leumeah
- Campbelltown
- Macarthur

The Glenfield to Macarthur Draft Corridor Strategy is on display at:

- HJ Daley Library, Campbelltown
- Ingleburn Library, Ingleburn
- Glenquarie Library, Macquarie Fields

It can also be viewed online at www.planning.nsw.gov.au/glenfieldtomacarthur

Media contact: (02) 9228 6128