Have your say on the Yelgun Cultural Events Site

A proposal to amend the planning approval for the Yelgun events site at Tweed Valley Way and Jones Road will be on exhibition from today for community feedback.

The Department of Planning and Environment is keen to hear the community’s views on the modification application which seeks to:

- gain permission to hold small community and non-music events at the site
- amend noise criteria to include limits for lower frequency sound emissions from events and amend current noise limits that are based on background noise levels and establish a new criteria that are consistent across summer and winter periods
- amend minor administrative issues

A spokesperson for the Department of Planning and Environment said the local community always has an opportunity to share their views.

“Community consultation is an integral part of the planning process and the applicant will have to respond to the feedback we receive and this is taken into consideration when we develop our recommendations,” the spokesperson said.

“It’s easy to participate by going online and we encourage everyone to take a look and have their say.”
