Have your say on a new community health centre at Brookvale

A proposal to construct a new community health centre along Pittwater Road at Brookvale will be on exhibition from today for community feedback.

The Department of Planning and Environment is keen to hear the community’s views on the application which seeks to:

- construct a new four storey community health centre building
- construct a pedestrian bridge crossing Pittwater Road
- construct a seven storey car park at the rear of the building
- construct a loading service bay next to the car park
- construct external signage on the northern and southern sides of the building.

A spokesperson for the Department of Planning and Environment said the local community always has an opportunity to share their views.

“Community consultation is an integral part of the planning process and the applicant will have to respond to the feedback we receive and this is taken into consideration when we develop our recommendations,” the spokesperson said.

“It’s easy to participate by going online and we encourage everyone to take a look and have their say.”
