Have your say on a new residential development at the Sydney Olympic Park

A proposal to construct four new apartment buildings at Site 53 at the Sydney Olympic Park went on display Thursday, 15 October 2015 for community feedback.

The Department of Planning and Environment is keen to hear the community’s views on the application which seeks to:

- construct four residential buildings, ranging from five to fifteen storeys, including
  - 422 apartments (33,386 square metres of gross floor space)
  - 1,500 square metres of commercial and retail space
- construct three levels of basement car parking with 500 spaces
- construct a new access road, landscaping, a children’s play area and a view corridor to the Bicentennial Marker.

A spokesperson for the Department of Planning and Environment said the local community always has an opportunity to share their views.

“Community consultation is an integral part of the planning process and the applicant will have to respond to the feedback we receive and this is taken into consideration when we develop our recommendations,” the spokesperson said.

“It’s easy to participate by going online and we encourage everyone to take a look and have their say.”
