Using the technical appendices

The Sydney Plan identifies specific policy and planning responses to address land use priorities in the short, medium and long term. The technical appendices accompany the Plan. They provide:

- additional information to support different sections of the Plan
- principles and guidance for councils and proponents to support local strategic planning and planning proposals
- detailed maps, data and evidence to support the Plan's implementation.

The Plan and technical appendices will be regularly updated and reviewed at a minimum of every five years in accordance with Division 3.1 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979. Technical Appendix A of the NSW State Land Use Plan sets out a framework for amendments and updates to region plans and their technical appendices over time.

The Sydney Plan is designed as an adaptable framework that can be monitored, reviewed and adjusted as population growth and community needs change. This document maintains a version register (Table 1) of updates to the technical appendices, including any savings provisions if required.
